Open Recalls

Recall #: 24AV | FUEL PUMP Recall Date: 2014 Jul 22

Recall Description

It is possible that gas bubbles may form in the fuel system when winterized fuel with high vapor pressures is used in warmer areas or months with higher ambient temperatures or during engine hot soak. Engine hot soak occurs when a vehicle is at operating temperature and then is shut off. The condition occurs when the engine is restarted within a short period of time, before the engine has fully cooled down. When the vehicles, affected by this recall, have been operated under low load for an extended period of time, deposits may collect and degrade the electrical current flow inside the in-tank fuel pump leading to reduced fuel pump performance and pressure. If these conditions occur in combination, the fuel pump may not be able to overcome the vapor pressure under low loads and can potentially result in a vehicle stall directly after engine start, increasing the risk of a crash.

Remedy

Install improved Engine Control Module (ECM) software.

This recall was open as of the date/time that this report was generated. For more information, or to find out if the recall has been closed, please contact VOLKSWAGEN or visit Volkswagen's website. Recall #: 69L2 | STEERING WHEEL CLOCK SPRING Recall Date: 2015 Sep 03

Recall Description

Hair or other fibers may contaminate the airbag clock spring (a spiral wound, flat cable that keeps the airbag powered while the steering wheel is being turned). This contamination may tear the cable and result in a loss of electrical connection to the drivers frontal airbag. A loss of electrical connection to the drivers frontal airbag will prevent the airbag from deploying in the event of a vehicle crash, increasing the risk of injury.

Remedy

To help correct this defect, dealers will: Install a protective cover over the steering wheel clock spring if the vehicle does not have an airbag light on,-OR-. Install a new steering wheel clock spring if the vehicle has an airbag light on (and diagnosis confirms the steering wheel clock spring requires replacement).

ICBC Disclaimer

The information supplied by ICBC is a report of the vehicle's status and the vehicle's claims history. Vehicle status shows whether a vehicle is qualified to be licensed and is used to track:

- vehicles sold by insurance companies as salvage
- salvage vehicles which have been rebuilt, inspected, and relicensed
- wrecked vehicles that have been decommissioned and can only be resold for parts

The vehicle status may not represent the vehicle accurately for a number of reasons, including a written-off vehicle that hasn't been reported to the B.C. vehicle registry or a vehicle with major damage that was repaired by its owner. The vehicle claims history is a report of vehicle damage and includes repairs paid by ICBC and outstanding damage estimates. It may be incomplete for various reasons, including the owner did not make a claim to ICBC or ICBC has denied the claim. In addition, the estimate information may not necessarily reflect the actual cost of repairs, list the area of the vehicle that sustained the greatest force of impact, or indicate the primary area of damage.

Consumers are encouraged to read ICBC's full statement of limitations at <http://apps.icbc.com/registration/vchr/Limitation.html>.

ICBC recommends the vehicle be inspected by a qualified mechanic to obtain a more complete assessment of the vehicle's condition.
